BILIK, Jerry H. (b. New Rochelle, NY. 7 Oct .1933)

Introspective & Exulte

Unpublished; not listed in ASCAP

“Another lovely, quality, little known work for solo oboe and band from a gifted composer. Written around 1978, I've played it as a rental from Jerry years ago. As with the Williams work, the band writing is as substantial as the solo. Many of the Jerry Bilik Music works are now in the hands of RBC. Since they represent some of Jerry's band works, they may have further information. <http://www.rbcmusic.com/>” [Not listed on the RBC website]

Review, sound clip, program notes

<<http://www.jenniferhigdon.com/windensembleworks.html>>

"[Higdon's] Oboe Concerto shares the shimmering beauty and rhythmic playfulness of many of her other works. The concerto, in fact, seems infused with the beauty of its solo instrument. Higdon seems to address that quality. She opens and closes the work with a sustained note in the oboe's middle register. It's a striking opening, as if to say just a single note on this instrument can enchant — and it does." --Minneapolis Star Tribune

HUMMEL, Johann Nepomuk (1778-1837).

Adagio, Theme, and Variations

Solo Oboe and band arr. Jose Schyns

Grade Level: 5 Dur. 14'

Pub: Hafabra Music Belgium 2001. Band set: 128 €

"The work begins with an introduction in a very poignant and solemn adagio, with some surprisingly unusual modulations for a piece from this period. This is followed by four variations on a very enchanting theme which is probably taken from popular German opera".

Grade Level 5

The 'Concerto pour Hautbois' was written in 1991. In fact, it is a new version of the 'Concerto for Harmonica and Symphony Orchestra' commissioned by the famous harmonica virtuoso Larry Adler in 1954. The latter created it in Birmingham (England) the same year. There is no other oboe part in the band, in order to hold the tone color of the solo instrument in the spotlight.

WILLIAMS, Clifton (b. Traskwood, Arkansas 1923; d. 12 Feb 1976)
Pandean Fable

Originally written for Bass flute and band in 1970, Jim Williams made an Alto flute & English horn duo-concertante version for me. This is a unique 10 minute substantial work, melodic, moving and reflective and for secure performers. It has been performed by others as well thru the years, however, is still unpublished at this time."-- James D. Wayne, Music Director <www.hvwindensemble.org>
